TAXATION OF SHAREHOLDERS

The following is based on the Company's understanding of, and advice received on, certain aspects of the law and practice currently in force in Luxembourg. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all possible tax situations that may be relevant to an investment decision. This summary does not allow any conclusions to be drawn with respect to issues not specifically addressed. The following description of Luxembourg tax law is based upon the Luxembourg law and regulations as in effect and as interpreted by the Luxembourg tax authorities on the date of this Country Supplement and is subject to any amendments in law (or in interpretation) later introduced, whether or not on a retroactive basis.

The residence concept used under the respective headings below applies for Luxembourg income tax assessment purposes only. Any reference in the present section to a tax, duty, levy, impost or other charge or withholding of a similar nature refers to Luxembourg tax law and/or concepts only. Also, a reference to Luxembourg income tax encompasses corporate income tax (impôt sur le revenu des collectivités), municipal business tax (impôt commercial communal), a solidarity surcharge (contribution au fonds de chômage), as well as personal income tax (impôt sur le revenu) generally. Investors may further be subject to net wealth tax (impôt sur la fortune) as well as other duties, levies or taxes. Corporate income tax, municipal business tax as well as the solidarity surcharge invariably apply to most corporate taxpayers resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes. Individual taxpayers are generally subject to personal income tax and the solidarity surcharge. Under certain circumstances, where an individual taxpayer acts in the course of the management of a professional or business undertaking, municipal business tax may apply as well.

Investors should consult their professional advisers on the possible tax and other consequences of their subscribing for, purchasing, holding, selling or redeeming Shares under the laws of their country of incorporation, establishment, citizenship, residence or domicile.

Dividends and other payments received from the Shares by a Luxembourg resident individual Shareholder are currently subject to income tax at the progressive ordinary rate (currently up to a maximum of 39% (with an additional upper tax rate of 40% where certain income thresholds are exceeded)), plus the solidarity surcharge of 7% of the applicable ordinary rate (or of 9% where certain income threshold are exceeded) on the income tax to be paid, plus a 0.5% temporary budgeted balancing tax, i.e. a global marginal rate of 42.23%, 43.3% or 44.1%.

A gain realised upon the sale, disposal or redemption of Shares by a Luxembourg resident individual Shareholder, acting in the course of the management of his private wealth is not subject to Luxembourg income tax, provided this sale, disposal or redemption took place more than 6 months after the Shares were acquired and that the Shareholder does not hold a substantial participation in the Company. A participation is deemed to be substantial where the Shareholder holds, either alone or, for an individual, together with his spouse and/or minor children, directly or indirectly at any time within the 5 years preceding the income, more than 10% of the share capital of the Company. The holding of a participation through a company of which the Shareholder holds the majority of voting rights is considered as an indirect participation. Further, a participation is deemed to be substantial if the Shareholder had acquired said participation free of charge within 5 years preceding the transfer and that the previous owner, or owners in case of successive transfers free of charge within the same 5 year period, was (were) deemed to hold a substantial participation.
