Delaware Investments raises $124,000 for Habitat for Humanity Philadelphia in charity golf tournament

7-year tally tops $1.1 million in donations to local organizations

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12, 2011 – Thanks to generous support from sponsors and employees, Delaware Investments raised $124,795 in its charity golf outing – the Delaware Investments Charity Classic – for Habitat for Humanity Philadelphia. The Macquarie Group Foundation, which encourages staff to participate in and organize fundraising activities for nonprofit organizations, is matching $100,000 of the funds raised. The total donation, $224,795, will be used to sponsor a new home for a deserving family and as seed funds for a home-weatherization program. The tournament took place on Monday, Oct. 10, 2011.

Through seven years of tournaments, including the Macquarie Group Foundation match last year, Delaware Investments, which is a member of Macquarie Group, has raised a total of $1,123,305 for local organizations. Previous beneficiaries include:

- 2005 Operation Warm
- 2006 Neighborhood Bike Works and Rebuilding Together Philadelphia
- 2007 Philadelphia Society for Services to Children
- 2008 The Cradle of Liberty Council and Philadelphia Futures
- 2009 ASAP (After School Activities Partnership)
- 2010 Philadelphia Wooden Boat Factory

“It’s very gratifying to give back to the local community in such a significant way,” said Patrick P. Coyne, president and CEO of Delaware Investments. “We’ve been located in Philadelphia for more than 80 years, and we’re thrilled to be able to work with our partners and our employees to support these great organizations.”
